

Dr. Jim Ellis appointed Chief Integration Officer, Prisma Health medical group
From Dr. David Williams, President, Prisma Health University Medical Group

Dr. Jim Ellis has been appointed Chief Integration Officer for the Prisma Health medical group. Dr. Ellis, an emergency physician, has been with the organization for eleven years. He originally served as Medical Director of the MD360 urgent care centers before becoming Medical Director of University Medical Group and then VP of Clinical Affairs for Prisma Health University Medical Group. Dr. Ellis will work with and report to Dr. David Williams in his role as President of the Prisma Health medical group, and will promote clinical integration, working with individual departments and physician leadership across Prisma Health.